USDC Monthly Meeting – This month USDC is privileged to have ATK Mission Systems host a card exchange with many of their key officials located in their Clearfield office. ATK Mission Systems is a leading developer and manufacturer of advanced weapon systems for ground, sea, and air platforms, and propulsion and control systems for missile defense, spacecraft-orbit transfer, missiles, and projectiles. Other major products and programs include aircraft sensor integration, missile warning systems, and advanced technologies for military, space, strategic, and tactical applications.

This is an ideal opportunity to showcase your products/services to many of ATK's local Mission Systems employees.
